

FINAL Capstone Journal Entry

The last requirement of the Capstone Project is to reflect on the process by writing a final journal reflection on your process, final product, and presentation addressing the following questions.

This can be submitted in the same format as your previous journals which could include typed documents, blogs, etc.

- The Capstone is a unique and demanding challenge. In completing it, what did you learn about:
 - Your subject?
 - Your skill set?
 - Yourself?
- How is your project relevant to you, the school or the community-at-large?
- How did you demonstrate the six Core Competencies throughout this project? (Communication, Critical Thinking, Creative Thinking, Personal and Cultural Awareness, Personal Awareness & Responsibility, and Social Responsibility).
- What impact, if any, did your Capstone project have?
- Thinking about the whole process and your finished product, what are you most proud of?
- Outside of Covid-19, what was a difficulty you encountered and how did you solve the problem?
- Due to Covid-19, what was a difficulty you encountered and how did you solve it?
- What is one thing about your finished project you wish you could change? Why?
- What is one thing about your approach to your project that you wish you could change? Why?
- What advice would you give to a student who will be completing their Capstone Project next year?
- What do you think the teachers could do to improve next year's Capstone experience?
